Reviving History: Supporting the New Spirit of St. Louis

Celebrating the Legacy of Exploration and Innovation

Introduction

In 1927, Charles Lindbergh inspired the world with his daring trans-Atlantic flight. Seventy-five years later his grandson, Erik Lindbergh, reignited that spirit with the New Spirit of St. Louis, a one-of-a-kind Lancair Columbia 300 aircraft specifically designed for another non-stop solo trans-Atlantic flight. Today, we invite you to join us in preserving and promoting this aviation legacy for future generations.

1927 - 2002
Lindbergh 75th Anniversary Flight

Mission Statement:

Our mission is to honor the past, inspire the present, and innovate for the future by maintaining the New Spirit of St. Louis as a symbol of exploration and resilience and as an aerospace educational tool.

About the Project

Aircraft History:

The Spirit of St. Louis, famously flown by Charles Lindbergh in 1927, revolutionized the world of aviation. On the 75th anniversary of that historic journey, Erik Lindbergh piloted the New Spirit of St. Louis across the Atlantic, paying homage to his grandfather's legacy.

Current Goals:

Our current mission is to preserve this iconic aircraft, share its story with the world, and inspire a new generation through educational programs and public outreach.

Why Sponsor Us?

Brand Exposure:

Your logo will be prominently featured on the aircraft, our website, event materials, and across social media. Sponsors will also be highlighted in press releases and media coverage.

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR):

Supporting this project demonstrates your commitment to preserving history, promoting STEM education, and engaging with the aviation community.

Engagement Opportunities:

- Exclusive VIP invitations to events
- Private tours or access to the aircraft
- Co-branded educational materials
